About the property

Beautifully presented to a very high standard and immaculately kept by its current owners! This wonderful two double bedroom detached bungalow is the perfect home for those simply wishing to move straight in and want nothing more to do than simply decide, where to put the furniture. Its wonderful far reaching views are a sight to behold and ensure you feel a part in close proximity of the countryside.

Situated in the South Wight village of Wroxall, the property sits close to some of the islands' best countryside walks from Stenbury Down to the trails surrounding the Manor of Appuldurcombe House and Freemantle Gate. A local shop, pub and even a charity Donkey Sanctuary with its popular cafe can also be found here.

Even from the kerb, it's clear that this property has been very well cared for and seen a good level of investment over the years. There is driveway parking for several cars plus a garage, which is furthered with even more workshop space at the rear. The garden is cleverly designed and ensures that the space is relatively low maintenance but also south facing and offers space for those with green fingers to still make it their own.

Internally, from top to bottom, this bungalow is in fabulous condition. There are two double bedrooms suitably complimented by a modern bathroom. The living space is very well sized and both kitchen/diner and lounge offer a social aspect, linking well with the garden.
